1. PRELIMINARY

1.1 PREAMBLE

The Albinism Fellowship of Australia ("AFA") is a national non-profit association established in 2006. The AFA is run by volunteers who all have been personally touched by Albinism in some way. The AFA's key purpose is to provide support, education and fellowship to those with albinism, parents of children with albinism, their families, friends and relevant professionals.

Albinism is a rare genetic condition affecting about 1000 Australians (1 in 17,000). It is caused by a lack of pigmentation (melanin). This results in some degree of visual impairment, as well as some degree of paleness of their skin and hair. Oculocutaneous albinism affects the eyes, hair and skin. Ocular albinism only affects the eyes.

If you would like more information about albinism or the AFA, please visit our website www.albinismaustralia.org or phone 1300 22 16 19.

1.2 DEFINITIONS

1. "Act", "by-laws", and "regulations" means any rules made by the Executive Committee in accordance with the Constitution, and the Associations Incorporation Act 2009 (NSW). References to the Act refer to this legislation, which is administered by the Office of Fair Trading NSW.

2. "Committee" means the Executive Committee;

3. "Executive Committee" means:

a) the committee of people who make the executive decisions about the AFA in accordance with this Constitution; and

b) the Committee formed under Clause 14.

4. "Albinism", in relation to a person means: a person with albinism is a person with a visual impairment with or without fair skin or hair, due to a lack of melanin who has been medically diagnosed as having albinism;

5. "Family" consists of more than one individual, all living in one household, and includes but is not limited to:

a) spouse or partner;

b) parent;

c) legal guardian;

d) grandparent;

e) children.

6. "Year" means from the first day of July in any given year until the thirtieth day of June in the following year.

1.3 TYPES OF ALBINISM

While most people with albinism have very light skin and hair, levels of pigmentation can vary depending on one's type of albinism. Oculocutaneous albinism (OCA) involves the eyes, hair and skin. Ocular albinism (OA), which is much less common, involves only the eyes, while skin and hair may appear similar or slightly lighter than that of other family members.

Recent research has used analysis of DNA, the chemical that encodes genetic information, to arrive at a more precise classification system for albinism. By 2018, seven forms of oculocutaneous albinism had been recognized. Some are further divided into subtypes.

More information about the different types of albinism is available on the AFA website at www.albinismaustralia.org or on the website of the National Organisation for Albinism and Hypopigmentation (NOAH) at <https://www.albinism.org/information-bulletin-what-is-albinism/>

Complete the AFA membership or renewal of membership application form. The Executive Committee has the option to determine whether to approve or to reject the application.

2.3 CESSATION OF MEMBERSHIP

The Executive Committee will have the power, by resolution, to terminate any membership of a member.

A person ceases to be a member of the association if the person:

1. dies or
2. resigns membership or
3. is expelled from the association.

If any membership application is refused by the Executive Committee, the applicant may appeal by formally requesting the matter be placed on the agenda for the next meeting of the Executive Committee.

A person who ceases to be a member, for any reason, will not have any claim, monetary or otherwise, upon the AFA or its funds or assets.

2.4 MEMBERSHIP ENTITLEMENTS

Membership entitlements are not transferable. Membership entitlements are a right, a privilege or obligation which a person has, being a member of the AFA:

2.6 REGISTER OF MEMBERS

The AFA must establish and maintain a register of members of the AFA specifying the name and address of each person who is a member of the AFA together with the date on which the person became a member. The register is open for inspection (subject to any privacy requirements) by any member of the AFA upon request.

A member of the AFA may obtain a copy of any part of the register on payment of a fee of $2 for each page copied or some other amount determined by the Executive Committee.

2.7 MEMBERSHIP FEES AND SUBSCRIPTIONS

Membership (other than ten year and lifetime membership) is yearly from July to June in any calendar year. Membership fees will be reviewed and recommended by the Executive Committee and then passed by a resolution of members during the Annual General Meeting.

The Executive Committee will send a notice of fees now due to each member. If the Treasurer has not received payment of the membership fees of a particular member ninety (90) days after sending out the notice, that person will cease to be a member. The Secretary will remove them from the register of financial members as soon as reasonably possible. Members will be advised of any other fees or subscriptions.

2.8 MEMBERSHIP LIABILITIES

A matter or thing done by a member of the Executive Committee, or by a person acting under the direction of a member of the Executive Committee, does not, if the matter or thing was done or omitted to be done in good faith for the purpose of exercising the committee member's functions under the Associations Incorporation Act 2009 (NSW), subject the committee member or person so acting personally to any action, liability, claim or demand.

2.9 RESOLUTION OF INTERNAL DISPUTES

Members are free to discuss their concerns and lodge complaints without prejudice. Members are welcome to involve another individual as an advocate at any point in the process.

The Executive Committee will undertake to ensure that the treatment of complaints and concerns will be handled in confidence. Each party will be treated with dignity and respect and given high priority for resolution and remediation.

If the member remains dissatisfied with the Executive Committee's response, the member may pursue other avenues to seek resolution of the issues, such as advocacy agencies or mediation services. The Executive Committee may also choose to use an external mediator and will bear costs involved to a specified amount. The Executive Committee will not however pay for any legal costs.

If any membership is refused or terminated by the Executive Committee, the applicant or member may appeal by formally requesting the matter be placed on the agenda for the next meeting of the Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee will inform the member in writing of the motion to terminate their membership before any resolution is passed. The notice will give the reasons stated for the motion to terminate membership and allow the affected member to respond to allegations before the motion is put to the vote.

The Executive Committee will then notify any member of the termination of their membership as soon as possible after the resolution is passed.

Any member whose membership is terminated within fourteen (14) days of notification being made by the Executive Committee may appeal by requesting that the item be placed on the agenda of a Special General Meeting of members to be held to hear and determine the appeal.

When a resolution to terminate membership of a particular member, and either the right to appeal is not taken or on appeal the decision of the Executive Committee is upheld, the Secretary will remove that member's name from the register of members.
